Hi. My name's Jake.
Since the pandemic of working together with my speech therapist via zoom, I couldn't wait to step back inside Kids Center to ask her my first question, "Where is baby?" This is the stuffed animal that we had played with throughout the pandemic on zoom. This may not seem like a big deal to some, but I have Apraxia and Autism, so I can't communicate verbally with those around me. I've been using a speech-generating device for years. This device has given me a way to access communication. I am 6 years old and I use this device to ask questions that I NEVER could before. I can also make comments about everything around me like recently telling my speech therapist "this is fun" during a session, and I can ask for things that I need on a daily basis. I'm getting ready to start school next year, so I'm really working on all the ways I can practice using my device with my new friends and teachers.
